

Profile

Namie Modiri, a Senior Associate in Minchin & Kelly's Corporate and Commercial Division, navigates complex transactions for local and international companies. Her expertise spans mergers and acquisitions, competition law, banking, project finance, and more. She tackles employment, trust and estate administration matters with the same dedication. A leader in regulatory laws, data protection, privacy, and communications law, Namie advises clients across diverse industries. Her experience extends to public-private partnerships, energy regulation, and financial services law. Joining Minchin & Kelly in January 2017, Namie's contributions continue to impress.

Education

- LLM Mercantile Law, University of Pretoria, 2016
- LLB, University of Pretoria, 2015

Membership

- Law Society of Botswana

Admission

- Admitted as an Attorney: 2017
- Admitted as a Notary: 2017
- Admitted as a Conveyancer: 2017

Publications

The Corporate Social Responsibility of Companies and its effects on competitive advantage – A comparative analysis of Botswana and South Africa (University of Pretoria – December 2016)

A critical analysis of recent amendments to South Africa's Mining Laws: Are they consistent with the demands of sustainable development? (University of Pretoria – December 2015)

Sectors

Regulatory Corporate
Energy
Banking and Project Finance
Media, Sport and Entertainment

Contact

Namie Modiri
Senior Associate
Corporate and Commercial
T +267 72 137 045
nmodiri@minchinkelly.bw