

Profile

Overview

Keith Phili is a driven Associate in Minchin & Kelly (Botswana)'s Financial Recoveries Division, specialising in debt collection, recovery litigation, and enforcement of financial claims on behalf of banks, insurers, and corporate institutions. His practice is centred on strategic recovery action, from demand and litigation processes to execution and asset tracing, ensuring efficient and commercially sound outcomes for clients.

Keith plays a key role in managing high-volume recovery portfolios, drafting pleadings and repossession applications, and advising on risk mitigation within credit and lending frameworks. Working closely with the Head of Division, he contributes to structured recovery strategies and complex financial dispute resolution matters.

In addition to his recoveries focus, Keith supports the firm's broader civil litigation practice, assisting in contested proceedings and procedural applications before the courts of Botswana. His combined exposure to litigation, dispute resolution, and financial recoveries positions him as a meticulous and results-oriented practitioner within Botswana's financial enforcement landscape.
